Battle of the budgets.

It's raging in Harrisburg, in Washington and a funny switch it is. Leader, the Democrat, insisting on record-breaking spending, and Eisenhower, the Republican, ditto.

Public in the middle, as usual, and whatever happens it probably won't win if for no other reason than that political expediency is motivating the fight on all sides.

That Johnny Podres did quite a pitching job at the stadium last night, incidentally, as he beat the Phils 4-0 on a three-hitter.

Some night we're going to be there when our boys win. But you know something? Even in losing they look mighty, mighty good and after tonight's collision with the Reds you'll know better what we mean.

Poor old Case Stengel's got a bundle of trouble, what with those $1000 fines on six night-clubbing players doing nothing to help the spirit and morale of his faltering Yanks.

Maybe the front office would have done better by letting Stengel handle his own problem. The guy's been around for quite a while.

Transfer of Silver Lake property from the state to the county is now official.

If this Silver Lake business blossoms into the kind of a great Lower Bucks court "lic recreation park everybody is visualizing, it'll represent some pretty neat teamwork on the part of county commissioners, park board, Bristol township commissioners and Bristol borough burgess and council.

And also a very nice object lesson in the style of cooperation we've been needing here for the past five years.

The mountaineer returned home wearing a stickpin with a stone as big as a quarter. "Is it a real diamond?" the family asked.

"Well, if it ain't," he replied, "I've been skinned out of four bits."

The street will be closed to traffic for the occasion, which will start at 9 a.m., but opened for thousands of pedestrians to see the interesting exhibits. A highlight will be the awarding of a $1000 boat as the prize for a lucky visitor. The winner will be determined in a drawing by William J. Veitch, president of Bristol Borough Council, at 4:30 p.m.

Store Attractions

Stores in the Mill Street Association will offer special attractions to attract shoppers. These will be announced in a tabloid section of the Courier and Times on Thursday.

The parking meters on one side of Mill Street will resemble mooring posts, with boats up to 60-foot yacht-size berthed at the curb. On the other side will be dazzling new American and foreign cars. Hooper Motors and O'Keefe Motors, of Trenton, foreign car dealers, will join the previously announced dealers in American cars in the show.

Wayman Identified In Bensalem Holdup

Frederick J. Wayman, 21, of 904 Pennsylvania Ave., Morrisville, this morning was identified "positively" as one of the men who robbed the Delaware Valley Cleaners, Bensalem Township, on Dec. 13, 1956.

Miss Dolores Plunkett, 20, of 823 Byberry - Bridgewater Road, Bensalem, a salesgirl at the cleaners, testified at the start of Wayman's trial this morning on a robbery charge that he was one of the two men who held her up at gun point.

She said Wayman and a "dark-haired" man came into the store

Terrace Girl Saves Family From Death

A 10-year-old Bristol Terrace girl saved her mother, father, brother and sister from possible death by fire when she woke up to get a drink of water at 5:30 this morning. The girl, Rosemary Kairis, of 421 Court A, woke up because her "throat felt funny." She roused her six-year-old sister, Diana Lynn. Both girls, still half asleep, went to the kitchen for water.

When they returned to the bedroom, Rosemary noticed, for the first time, that the house was filled with smoke. She woke up her mother and father, John and Clara Kairis.

Then Rosemary helped her mother carry her three-year-old brother, John, outside. Diana Lynn also ran out of the house while her father called police.

The 31-year-old father, an employee of Rohm and Haas, said when he woke up he could not see the bed in his daughters' room. He added he had to lay down on the floor to telephone for help because the smoke was so thick. Even then he said he was choking.

The Third District Fire Company, of Bristol Township, rushed to the house with about 30 men.

Smoldering Chair

They discovered the smoke was coming from a smoldering cushion and a child's upholstered chair in the girl's bedroom.

The volunteers were forced to don air masks to enter the building. They carried the smoking furniture outside and doused it with water. Except for several of Rosemary's dresses which were

Quakertown Man Killed

A 25-year-old Quakertown RD soldier, Richard W. Keller, was killed instantly this morning when his car sheered off a utility pole a short distance south of Quakertown borough.

State police said Keller apparently lost control of his car on "dead man's curve" Route 313, and slammed into the pole.

Keller was home on leave after serving in Japan, and was to leave today for reassignment to overseas duty.

The soldier was pronounced dead at the scene by Deputy Coroner Dr. Fred Phillips, of Quakertown.

His death is the 15th automobile in Bucks County since January 1. The accident was reported to police by Mrs. H. W. Raymaan, who lives near the scene.

Beck Jr. Faces Contempt Charge

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman John L. McClellan of the Senate Rackets Committee today ordered contempt of Congress action against the son and nephew of Teamsters President Dave Beck.

McClellan ordered contempt proceedings started by the committee staff after a fruitless questioning of Dave Beck Jr. and Joseph McEvoy, Beck's nephew by marriage, on their relations with the Teamsters Union and its payroll.

Beck Jr. invoked the Fifth Amendment 130 times in refusing to tell committee investigators whether he got nearly $65,000 in salary and expenses from the union.

McEvoy invoked the Fifth Amendment 90 times on similar questions. Both men refused to say even whether they knew the senior Beck.

Young Beck had refused to say whether he knew his father—"on grounds that it may incriminate me."

Junior even refused to say whom he was named for, though Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-N.C.) said he got his name when he

Premature Deaths & Cigarette Smoking Linked By Scientists

NEW YORK (UP)—Cigarette smoking and premature death were coupled today in the final report on a massive four-year statistical study of 183,000 male smokers and non-smokers conducted by the American Cancer Society.

Death rates from all causes were higher among the smokers than among the non-smokers. The rates rose consistently in proportion to the amount of smoking.

Among men who smoked one-half pack—10 cigarettes—a day or less, the death rate was 34 per cent higher than among non-smok-

Treaty Has Jurisdiction Agreement

January Shooting Involved Woman On Rifle Range

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States today agreed to let Japan try Army Specialist 3rd Class Williams S. Girard for the slaying of a Japanese woman.

The decision was announced in a joint statement by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson.

Girard became the storm center of a U.S.-Japanese controversy when he fired an empty cartridge shell into a group of Japanese on the Camp Weir firing range in Japan Jan. 30 and killed a woman who was picking up empty cartridges on the range.

Japan insisted on prosecuting him, but the Pentagon refused to deliver the 21-year-old GI immediately to Japanese authorities because some military officials felt he should be tried by an American court martial.

President Eisenhower ordered the Pentagon and State Department to review the case and work out a solution.

In a joint statement, Dulles and Wilson recalled that the U.S. representative on a U.S.-Japanese committee agreed on May 16 that the United States would not exercise jurisdiction in the case.

The two officials said "in view of this completed action, attempting to prolong the dispute over the jurisdictional issue would create a situation which could basically affect U.S. relations, not only with Japan, but also with many other nations."

The United States has a treaty with Japan and a number of other Allies under which U.S. military men stationed in those countries may be tried by local courts for violations of local laws.

Japan Trial Protested

WASHINGTON (UP)—Two congressmen demanded today that the United States repudiate its agreement with Japan giving Japanese courts the right to try American servicemen there for "off-duty" crimes.

Other congressmen joined them in calling for review of the decision, announced by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, to turn Army Specialist Williams S. Girard over to Japan.

Smelting Co. Settles In Tullytown

Die Casting Ingots Are Product Of Area Newcomer

The Delaware Valley Smelting Corp. has picked a Tullytown site in favor of a Burlington County, N.J. location for its new plant which is now in operation, the Lower Bucks Realty Co. announced today.

The smelting plant, in the Lucisano Industrial Park, occupies a building containing over 5,000 square feet.

The realty firm, which represented Lucisano Brothers in negotiating the construction and leasing of the structure, said it is the only plant of its kind in the eastern United States and produces zinc die casting ingots which are cast on the premises.

The aggregate rental over the term of the lease, without regard to future expansion, is in excess of $60,000 according to the realtor.

"Negotiations were completed despite the competition afforded by a site in Burlington County, N.J.," said a spokesman for the realtor. "The advantages of the chosen site, including taxes, labor supply, location, and transportation network were determining factors, as well as reasonable rental terms."

Officers of the smelting firm expressed an open invitation to the public to visit the facilities, on River Road, Tullytown, the latest industrial addition to the ever-growing industrial expansion of this area.

The announcement that the smelting firm preferred the Lower Bucks County site to one in Burlington County contrasted to a feeling that industries are favoring the New Jersey county. In the past two years, many firms, including a steel company and a gypsum firm, have picked sites across the river as Lower Bucks boosters lamented that development here has been slow.

The Lower Bucks Realty Co. announced it is offering other locations in the same area for other industries and hopes new occupants will be attracted to

Indian Is Acquitted In Tomahawk Case

NEW YORK (UP)—Police arrested an Indian for disorderly conduct when they spotted a tomahawk dangling from his belt.

But the Indian, William W. Martin, 43, convinced authorities Monday he was not on the warpath. He was acquitted of the charge after he explained that the little hatchet was a tool of his trade. He's a pineapple crater.

3 Pay Costs In Bucks Court Case

A family fight which erupted into a criminal trial ended yesterday with three participants paying one-third each of the court costs.

The decision came almost five years after the fight ended, because the trial had to wait until one of the participants, Vincent Rago, was discharged from the Air Force.

Assault and battery charges against Rago, now of Hampton, Va.; Edward Hall, 205 Magnolia Drive, Levittown, and Joseph Hibbs, 196 Winder Drive, Bristol, were brought by Raymond Longhitano, 4705 Lynn Drive, Bristol township.

The three were acquitted by a jury.

Rago, then 18, a nephew of Longhitano, was accused of starting the fight on Nov. 16, 1952, by his uncle.

Hall and Hibbs, brothers-in-law of Rago, allegedly helped beat up Longhitano.

A criminal court jury acquitted Hall, Hibbs and Rago of assault and battery, but Hall, Rago and Longhitano were ordered to pay one-third of the $123.95 court costs.

The three defendants were represented by Attorney John P. Fullam, Fairless Hills.

Levittown Lions Club To Sell Bulbs

Three members of the Levittown Lions who attended the state convention recently held in Scranton reported on the activities at last night's Lions' Club meeting in the Bucks Hotel, Feasterville. They were Don Wallace, Amos Farrugio, and Jack Glasheen.

It was announced that final plans have been made for the annual light bulb sale. Two teams have been set up which will be going out three nights a week, and it is hoped by chairman, Don Wallace, that every home will be contacted.

The light bulbs are sold for $1.30 per carton of six, and funds raised are used in the Lions' "Sight Conservation Program," which works in many different directions to help those whose sight is afflicted.

In addition to Mr. Wallace, Joe Felix and Amos Farrugio have been appointed captains of the drive to assist him.

Final arrangements have also been made for attendance by the Lions' of the Phillies-Cincinnati game on Thursday, and plans are being concluded for the Lions Installation Dinner-dance to be held June 28.

Group Plans Discussion Of Nature Trails

The committee that was recently set up by Levittown residents for the protection and development of the natural woodlands lying in the Mill Creek and Queen Anne Basin areas will meet at 8:30 tonight in the Walter Miller School, Snowball Gate, it has been announced.

The further development of the woodlands by Levittown organizations that have expressed interest in creating nature trails, wild flower preserves, bird sanctuaries and "cook out" sites also will be discussed further.

Not Permanent

Robert Carter, 121 Snowball Drive, who was appointed temporary chairman of the committee, announced that although the clean-up drive of two weekends ago was a success, the results have not been permanent.

"The pool area at Snowball Gate for instance," he said, "was completely cleared of every bit of paper and trash at that time, but since it has opened, it looks as disgraceful as before."

Mr. Carter pointed out that it isn't only a matter of policing the areas, but of educating the people to be individually responsible for maintaining that cleanliness.

At tonight's meeting plans will be discussed for asking co-operation from the Levittown Firm in having bulldozing done at the edge of the woods.

"The creeks were given a 12 foot strip of leveling and grass was planted along it, but then there is a sheer drop off to the woods that creates a natural dumping spot," said Carter, adding that because of the drop, the trash that is dumped there cannot be seen from the road.

Terrace Girl

Carl D'Emidio, chief of the Third District firemen, said, "If the girl hadn't awakened when she did the whole family would have been overcome by smoke within a few minutes."

As it was, the family escaped with few ill effects.

Rosemary, a fourth grade pupil at St. Mark's Catholic School, Bristol, went to class today in her good dress since her school uniforms were destroyed.

Her father, who has been working part time at Rohm and Haas for the past seven weeks, said he was supposed to start full time work today but had to postpone starting by one day.

Dave Beck Jr.

Young Dave was a faster man with the Fifth Amendment than his famous father, invoking it more than three times a minute.

His father used it more than 200 times, but it took him most of three days because he made speeches between his non-answers.

The elder Beck is on the way out as Teamsters president amid charges by the committee that he used his official position to enrich himself, young Dave, and other relatives.

The trial may continue until tomorrow. Assistant District Attorney Franklin B. Hartzell is prosecutor. President Judge Edward G. Biester is presiding.

First Confirmation Class

These boys and girls tonight will become the first class of the Temple Shalom School to be confirmed. They are (from

Confirmation Rites

Temple to Start Shavuot Festival

The Biblical First Fruits Festival will start at sunset today as the local Jewish Community joins with coreligionists throughout the world in colorful Shavuot (Pentecost) rites. Also called the "Feast of Weeks," Shavuot is the 50th day after Passover concluding a "week of weeks" during which, in ancient times, the Omer grain offering was brought to the Temple in Jerusalem.

Regarded traditionally as the day of the giving of the Law to Moses and God's covenant with Israel at Mt. Sinai, Shavuot has, in recent years, become the usual date of Jewish confirmation. Youngsters, normally on the Shavuot after their 15th birthday, are confirmed in the Faith of Israel.

First Confirmation

Temple Shalom, on Edgely Ave., will mark its first confirmation tonight at 8:30 o'clock when five local youngsters conduct the entire service and take their confirmation vows. Rabbi Robert Bergman will deliver the confirmation charge and bless each of the confirmands.

The confirmands, who will receive certificates from David Kogen, Chairman of the Temple School Board, and gifts from representatives of the congregation, the Sisterhood and the Men's Club, are: David Allan Axler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Axler, 52 Idlewild Road; Judith Ellen Baranoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Baranoff, 41 Lower Orchard Drive; Jeffrey Harris Gangel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Gangel, 286 Quincey Drive; Harriet Lee Levin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Levin, 334 Blueridge Drive; and Carol Frieda Solot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Solot, 71 Queenlily Road.

Participating in the service will be the Temple Choir, under the direction of Theodore Jack, with Mrs. Murray Cohen as organist. A community reception by the parents will be tendered, following the service, in honor of the confirmands. The public has been invited to the service and reception.

Liam S. Girard over to a Japanese court for manslaughter trial.

Chairman Thomas S. Gordon (D-Ill.) called hearings of his House Foreign Affairs Committee beginning June 13 to investigate the Girard case and consider demands that the "status of forces" agreement with Japan be revised or scrapped.

Rep. Frank T. Bow (R-Ohio), who has led several unsuccessful campaigns to cancel the agreement, charged that Dulles and Wilson were "sacrificing" the 21-year-old soldier to "Japanese nationalism."

"I sincerely hope that Congress will now act swiftly on my resolution requiring the President to renegotiate or repudiate this agreement," he said.

Bow charged that Japanese courts "do not provide the accused with the protections Americans consider essential to a fair trial."

LPRA Halts Dances Held Be Loewe

The Levittown Public Recreation Association today formally notified Herman E. (Ed) Loewe that, pending a full investigation, he would not be permitted to conduct any further dances or sponsor other activities involving the use of LPRA facilities.

This decisive action was taken, stated Dick Gersu, executive director of the LPRA, because Mr. Loewe persisted in charging admission to teenage dances he sponsored at the play area adjacent to Indian Creek swimming pool.

Mr. Loewe represented to the LPRA that the money obtained from the dances was used to provide equipment for a Little League baseball team.

Contrary to Policy

It is contrary to LPRA policy, Mr. Gersu said, for any community group or person to charge admission when using LPRA facilities.

The LPRA's notification to Mr. Loewe read as follows:

"In accordance with the policy of the Levittown Public Recreation Association you are hereby informed, effective immediately, that you are not to sponsor or conduct dances or any other activity on any LPRA premises without written permission from me.

"It is the understanding of the Board of Trustees of the LPRA that you have levied admission charges for attendance at teenage dances at Indian Creek Park and further, that there was lack of adequate adult supervision at these dances.

"The Board will conduct a full investigation of these matters. You will be informed of its decision."

this area "which has proved itself competitive to any other."

Good Location

The Delaware Valley Smelting Corp. is owned by Leonard Leon, 48, president, of Philadelphia, and Walter E. Simon vice president, of Melrose Park. Mr. Simon said the geographical location between markets in Philadelphia and Northern New Jersey was what encouraged them to locate on the Tullytown site.

The industrial park for more than a year, has been occupied by nine smaller industries. In addition to the present three and one-half acre site, the Lucisano Brothers have three extra acres to develop. The new building of the Delaware Valley firm is to be expanded in a year.

The company makes ingots of zinc base alloys. The ingots are shipped out to use in manufacturing toys, fuel pumps, hardware, and other products.

Mr. Simon said that since coming here he has been highly impressed by the extremely cooperative attitude of the persons and firms with whom he has done business.

The Rev. Larmen S. Sherwood, blind since birth, delivered the inspiring address "Selling Yourself" to the 59th annual graduating class of Morrisville High School last night outdoors in front of the high school.

The Reverend Sherwood, minister of the Methodist Church of Rotterdam Junction, N.Y., is presently on a cross country lecture tour.

Sixty-six seniors graduated last night with 17 being singled out for their activities in their four years of high school.

School Sewer Line Seen

A sewer line into schools in Lower makefield Township became a distinct possibility last night when the Lower Makefield Township Board of Supervisors approved plans for an engineering survey of sewer "potential."

The Lower Makefield Township school board previously expressed interest in placing sewer lines to Pennsbury High, Charles Boehm Junior High, and the Makefield Elementary Schools.

The Falls Township sewer authority has asked for and received permission to make the engineering survey.

Potential Problem

Sewer lines have long been a potential problem in the township. One of the constant complaints from township residents is the poor drainage conditions in certain areas.

For several years, sewer lines have been opposed because of the great cost of installation.

It was indicated last night if the school board desires to install the lines, certain residential areas may also be tied in.

Survey Results

Results of the survey will be made known at a later date.

In other action, Supervisor Claude Johnson said a meeting is set for next Tuesday at township building with interested civic groups to organize formally a "Citizens Committee" to battle a proposed by-pass through the township.

Mr. Johnson said the state has not yet notified him exactly where the by-pass will be.

Indication

It has previously been indicated the by-pass would begin at the new Yardley bridge to be built at Scudder's Falls.

Mr. Johnson said, "The committee is not interested in halting the by-pass. We are only interested in guiding it away from the heavily residential areas into open township areas."

Road Survey

Russell Carter, a member of the board and the township roadmaster, agreed to make a survey of the condition of several township roads.

Dr. H. Lee Kustaborder, president of the Makefield Village Civic Association, complained of the condition of many roads in his section.

The roadmaster promised to study the road conditions and alleviate the problems if he could.

Private Road

Vernon Lane, a private road which has been dead ended, also came up for discussion. The supervisors advised the owner that a private road is the business of the owner and the developer, not the township.

NOTICE

"I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to everyone in Falls Township, for the assistance and support given me during the Primary Election campaign."

$60 Fine Is Levied On Overweight Truck

An overweight truck passed through Morrisville yesterday and the owner was hit with a $60 fine.

Officer Joseph Cavanaugh arrested John Van Grive, Glen Rock, N. J., driving for Layham and Sons, Paterson, N. J.

A fine of $60 and five dollars cost were paid to JP Neal Nolan, police said.

Cornwells Man Found Guilty In Driving Case

Johnson and his wife also said Johnson was driving.

Police said, however, that immediately after the accident the Johnsons and Stetser said that Stetser was driving.

When Stetser was subsequently pronounced drunk by a Bensalem physician, he changed his story and said Johnson was driving.

Stetser was positively identified as the driver of the car by Mr. and Mrs. Killian. Killian said Stetser attempted to pass him on the right, cut back onto the road sharply and locked bumpers with his car.

Mrs. Johnson said yesterday she didn't tell police Johnson was driving the night of the accident because she didn't think Stetser would get into any trouble.

A Cornwells Heights man who denied driving a car involved in an accident was convicted of drunken driving yesterday by a criminal court jury which deliberated only five minutes before bringing in a verdict.

Willard Stetser, 1044 Johanna

Ave., was fined $200 and sentenced to 30 days in Bucks County Prison by Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite.

Locked Bumpers

Stetser told the jury yesterday that on the night of Nov. 4, a companion, John W. Johnson, 908 Mill Road, Andalusia, was driving his car when it locked bumpers with a car driven by Francis Killian, 1708 George St., Cornwells.

The accident occurred at Route 13 and Mill Road, Andalusia.
